In many cases work is performed by non-qualified persons without required trainings or certificates. This situation may cause multiple non-conformances, high costs of poor quality as well as the EH&S incidents.

Please notice!!!

- Perform work only if you have been properly trained and approved for this task.
- If your job requires special certificate, ensure that you have one and it is approved and valid before starting the work.
- Do not delegate work to persons that are not properly trained to perform such a task.
- In case of any doubts ask your supervisor for assistance.
